

Mr John Papadopoulos
JP & Associates

Dear John,

TESTIMONIAL Re John Papadopoulos –JP & Associates

Having once being billed by a solicitor who attempted to bill us $147.00 for a letter he sent us questioning the finalisation of his services, we have always been wary of members of the legal profession as to whose best interest are they really acting for (themselves or ourselves) when supplying their services.

As a performance contracting company, with business interests in Real Estate investment, financial services and energy management, we need to feel confident that we have been advised in a professional manner and can rely upon the outcome.

Our initial consultation with John Papadopoulos left us with the impression of a caring person who was able to supply the services requested. We pride ourselves on doing our own due diligence before proceeding to the next step, and on the first project where we engaged John's services, his advice was invaluable in identifying, and eliminating a risk of not being able to complete a contract in a given time frame, thus creating the possibility of damages being awarded against us.

In all the cases we have presented to John for his evaluation and completion, we have always left the consultation feeling confident that he had carried out due diligence, and we were unable to identify any area where he was lacking for ideas and input.

Paperwork, to us is the most important component in any contractual arrangement, since it is setting out in writing what was the true intent between the parties. I have every confidence in John Papadopoulos that he is able to render the services in an honest and professional manner. Importantly he does not hesitate to ask questions if any point under consideration is in doubt. This is important to us, since rarely are any two contracts the same in content or projected outcomes.

I confidently recommend John Papadopoulos of JP & Associates as a person ready willing and able to compliment our business philosophy of acting fairly honestly & efficiently with our clientele.

John S
